WASHINGTON'S MOTHER

The Monument to Her Memory Dedicated at Fredericksburg.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S ADDRESS

He Pays a Glowing and Eloquent Tribute to American Motherhood and to the Free and Accepted Citizens of the United States

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. May 11.—The special train bearing President Cleveland and party to participate in the unveiling of the Mary Washington monument reached this city shortly before noon yesterday. A great crowd surrounded the station and when the train pulled in a presidential salute was fired. President Cleveland and his cabinet were received by members of the reception committee of whom one was Judge Hanson of the supreme court. In the adjoining streets were various organizations conspicuous among them the Confederate veterans, bearing battle flags of the Confederacy.

The procession marched through the town from the station to the Green Knoll, topped with wooden stands where the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution and distinguished guests were assembled.

The program for the dedicatory exercises were as follows: Prayer by Rev James P Smith D D, address of welcome on the part of the city by Hon A P Rowe mayor, address of welcome on the part of the state of Virginia by Governor Charles T O'Ferrall Masonic ceremonies address by Mr. Lawrence of Washington, a descendant of Mary Washington oration by Senator John W Daniel, the orator of the day.

Senator Daniel in his oration said.

"All that I am, said Washington 'I owe to my mother.' All that we are as a nation we owe to her. Her debt is ours. It is many times multiplied. It is ever growing, as the ever growing republic illustrates in its virtues and in its faults alike the merit of his example and the wisdom of his teachings. But for the light that streamed from the deeds of him she bore, we would doubtless have never heard the name of Mary Washington and the grass that grew upon this grave had not been disturbed by curious footsteps or reverential hands. But it does not follow that she shines only in the reflection of her offering's fame. Her virtues were not created, they were only discovered by the marvellous career of her illustrious son. There were ten thousand Mary Washingtons among the mothers of the revolution, and honoring her we honor the motherhood of heroic wars and heroic men.

"For many years this grave remained unmarked. But that this monument has been slow to rise is no proof that Mary Washington was unappreciated or forgotten. That this monument is reared now is better proof of appreciation than if it had been done under the momentary impulse of some transient feeling. This is the great test and the hoary years today set the jewel in her glory.

President Cleveland responded to Governor O'Ferrall's address of welcome saying in part:

"I speak to those who are today greeted as the official guests of Virginia and Fredericksburg when I return sincere thanks for the hearty welcome that has been extended to us in behalf of both the state and city. Our appreciation of the warmth of your reception is specially marked by the thought that in the light of the highest meaning belonging to the occasion there are no guests here. We have assembled on equal terms to worship at a shrine of local shrine.

"The man who said he cared not who made a people's laws if he could write their songs might have said with more truth that he could gauge the strength and vigor of a people and their fitness for self government if he knew the depth and steadfastness of their love for their mothers. I believe that he who thinks it brave and manly to outgrow his care and devotion for his mother is more than he who has no more in himself fit for treason stratagems and spoils and should not be trusted. Let us recall to-day as conclusive proof of the close relation between American greatness and strong love and reverence for our mothers the proud declaration of George Washington. All I am I owe to my mother, and let us not forget that when his glory was greatest and when the plaudits of his countrymen were loudest he raised high that there the blessings and approval of his aged mother.

"While these events cannot fail to inspire us anew with reverence for American motherhood we will remember that we are here to do honor to the woman who gave to our nation its greatest and best citizen and that we have the privilege of participating in the dedication of a monument erected by the women of our land in loving and enduring testimony to the virtues of the mother of Washington. Let us be proud today that the nobility of this woman exacted from a distinguished foreigner the admission 'If such are the matrons of America, she may well boast of illustrious sons,' and that Lafayette, who had fought with her son for American independence declared after he had received her blessing 'I have seen the only Roman matron living at this day.'

"Remembering these things, let us leave this place with our love of country strengthened, with a higher estimate of the value of American citizenship, and with a prayer to God that our people may hold fast to the sentiment that grows out of love and reverence for American motherhood."

Fredericksburg Lodge No 4 of Free Masons, in which George Washington was made a Mason gave a banquet at the opera house after the ceremonies around the monument. The prominent guests were seated around three long tables on the stage elevated above the body of the house. Vice President Stevenson was at the head of the right hand table. Chief Justice Fuller presided over the left, and the place of honor at the center table was vacant when the banquet commenced.

During the banquet President Cleveland entered the hall quietly and was standing in the center of the stage with the members of his cabinet and their ladies before he was recognized. Then the house shook with yells when Judge James B Sener introduced the president, pointing to the portraits of Washington and Andrew Jackson above the proscenium arch and alluding to Mr Cleveland as the legitimate successor of both. The president responded:

"Gentlemen, I am a good deal embarrassed by the mention of my two distinguished predecessors and by the fact that they are born members of the society under whose auspices the banquet is given. I am obliged to acknowledge my own shortcomings in not being a member of it. Perhaps it is my fault certainly it is my misfortune. There is in store compensation. I too have the honor to belong to a great fraternity one of which George Washington and Andrew Jackson were prominent members. A fraternity whose grip means much to all for American institutions, a fraternity that can never die, for its fame will always be before the world. Would you know the name of this fraternity? It is the brotherhood of free and accepted and I trust American citizens.

On May 7, 1833 President Andrew Jackson laid the corner stone of a monument over the grave of Mrs Washington and it was one of the [illegible] Mr Barrows, the patriotic New York gentleman who was [illegible] became [illegible] and the work was stopped. Congressman Bratton Dead.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Representative Robert F Brattan (Dem.), of the First district of Maryland, who has been lying dangerously ill for some weeks, died at his home in Princess Anne, aged 49. Mr. Brattan has been ill since September last. He was serving his first term in congress and occupied the seat in the house during the extra session of congress last year. Shortly after adjournment he fell ill. His malady was a complication of heart and kidney troubles. He has not been in Washington during the present term.

Confidence in Austria's Government.

VIENNA May 11.—In the lower house of parliament the democratic deputies questioned the government in regard to the shooting of striking miners at Ostrau and at Falkenau declaring that many of the men were found to have been shot in the back, showing that they were running away when they were fired at. The minister of the interior said the police fired solely in self defense and after they had been stoned by the strikers. The house finally by a vote of 182 to 83, expressed confidence in the government.

WRECKED BY A STORM.

High Winds Work Havoc in the Metropolis of Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 11.—A severe wind and rain storm visited this city and vicinity yesterday afternoon. Many buildings were unroofed and the loss will reach into the thousands. Shade trees and outbuildings in every part of the city were blown down. The street car system was for a time demoralized and the telephone and telegraph wires were in a useless condition. An infant child of S J Huntsmen, of 521 South Meridian street was instantly killed while sleeping in its cradle and a number of persons were more or less injured by falling walls and flying debris.

The roof of the Riley block on West Washington street, was blown off, and two persons injured. Among the block on the east is the establishment of Arnedeacon & Co. A number of girls are employed on the top floor of the building and when the roof of the Riley block was torn from its fastenings it crashed into the building where the girls were employed. Libbie James of 67 Division street was struck about the head and face, and Amanda Miller was caught by the falling [illegible] injured internally. Many [illegible] in Jamaica to the extent of $[illegible] and a number of other large establishments were damaged.

Injured by a Broken Trolley Wire.

AKRON O May 11.—A terrific wind storm accompanied by electricity, struck this city last evening. The Hotel Buchtel was damaged and numerous houses shattered. A broken trolley wire struck several people, injuring them severely. Two serious runaways resulted from fright to horses.

A PRISONER SHOT DEAD

He and a Fellow Convict Tried to Murder a Guard.

HUNTINGDON Pa May 11.—Edward Woods of Philadelphia, a third grade prisoner in the Huntingdon reformatory, was shot and instantly killed yesterday afternoon by L L Bookhamer, a cell guard. Woods and a fellow inmate by the name of Waldron, also a Philadelphian, who had repeatedly threatened the guard secreted heavy iron bars on their persons, and slipped away from the tailor shop where they were working. They then attacked Guard Bookhamer in the cell house. With his iron bar Woods knocked Bookhamer down, and with a second blow broke the guard's arm. At this moment a fellow guard came to Bookhamer's assistance with a revolver, which he gave to the latter. The convicts continued their attack on the prostrate guard, when the latter fired two shots at Woods who was in front one of them entering his heart, killing him instantly. The attack of the two prisoners on Guard Bookhamer was due to the latter having reported them for misconduct. The coroner's jury exonerated Bookhamer on the ground that the killing was an act of self defense.

Successful Bank Robbers.

NOEL Mo. May 11.—Seven men armed with Winchesters and revolvers rushed into Southwest City Mo, and robbed the bank, getting all the money the bank contained between $3,000 and $4,000. About 120 shots were fired by the robbers and four prominent citizens were badly wounded. The robbers were about ten minutes going through the bank. Afterward they mounted and started off at a full gallop. As they were leaving the outskirts some one fired several shots at them, killing a horse and wounding a robber. He captured another horse from a passing farmer and escaped.

The Fight Against the Pope.

PITTSBURG May 11.—A favorable outcome of the Galitzin public school case will be the filing at once of suits by the Junior Order United American Mechanics against all the school directors in the state who permit nuns to teach in schools over which they have supervision. State Councilor Kerr said: Data is being gathered in regard to other states where nuns are teaching in the schools, and we are aware of a decision on the Galitzin case before proceeding against the school directors at all these points."

THE TRAIN STEALERS.

Sanders' Reckless Army of Commonwealers Captured.

SURRENDERED WITHOUT A FIGHT.

For Two Days They Have Kept the State of Kansas in an Uproar, but Finally Yield to a United States Marshal—The Other Commonwealers.

KANSAS CITY May 11.—Sanders' reckless army of Commonwealers defied pursuit and laughed at obstacles again yesterday. Three times the stolen train was reported stalled before cars and engines purposely run off the track ahead of them and each time the railroad officials believed they were masters of the situation. But in less time than it took the railroad company to throw their engines from the track at one place and tear up the rails at another the men ahead Commonwealers' had built a track around the feeble obstructions and left the torn up rails with their force of 450 men.

The railroad company officials found themselves in a peculiar fix the state attorneys having declined to help them and the commissioners not caring to do so, preferring to let the wild train move on to having several hundred arrested men to feed and place on special. Bailey Waggener, the railroad attorney succeeded in pressing the United States into service by getting [illegible] the United States circuit court at Topeka to issue writs of arrest for the unknown Commonwealers, an act which the Populist leaders condemn as unlawful.

With United States Marshal Neely and a force of fifty, each with rifle or shotgun, Waggener started west on a special train from Topeka. The forces and firearms were increased en route and when the sheriff reached Scott City Kan., one hundred men each with a gun were aboard.

Meanwhile the wealers were reported as flying eastward. The man at the throttle, it was said was an old Missouri Pacific engineer and he knew every sag and out of the road. The wild train reached Horrace, Kan., about 2 o'clock. There they found an east bound passenger and mail train that had been held by the company. The wealers commanded the crew of this train to move and after an exchange of dispatches with the superintendent the train sped away and the wild train kept close in its rear.

Without mishap the runaways reached Scott City, which they approached warily. They saw fifty feet of track torn up in front of the station and a hundred men with rifles lined up on the station platform. The engineer reversed quickly and before the deputies had time to think their expected antagonists had disappeared in the distance from whence they came. The Missouri Pacific promptly started a train east from Leoti, Kan., twenty-five miles west of Scott City to intercept the returning army.

Finally, late last night the train stealers were halted half way between Leoti and Scott City, their steam having given out. Marshal Neely and his deputies, who had followed in a special train pounced upon the gang and they surrendered unconditionally. The surrender was made peaceably and the entire army has been taken to Topeka for trial.

Another Train Stealing Gang.

TACOMA Wash. May 11.—In a fight between Coxeyites and United States deputy marshals at North Yakima resulting from the refusal of the industrials to leave a train Marshals Chidester and Jolly were both shot. Of the industrials Nick Weaver "Seattle" Savage and Joe McAdee were wounded, the two former being shot in the head. Marshal Jolly's wounds are serious, it being through the bowels. He is not expected to live. Chidester is but slightly hurt by a ball in the thigh. Undeterred by this experience, sixty of the Coxeyites captured a single gondola coal car yesterday afternoon at Cle-Elum on the Northern Pacific main line. The car was stopped at Ellensburg, the sixty Coxeyites joining a hundred or more of their friends there. It is reported that sixty Coxeyites were arrested at Yakima yesterday afternoon for Wednesday night's shooting. Over one hundred industrials are still at Yakima and claim they will take the first east bound freight train.

Industrials Must be Vaccinated.

LANCASTER Pa., May 11.—The state board of health held its quarterly meeting here. A communication was received from the Ohio state board of health, which stated that there is possible danger of infection with smallpox through the threatened invasion of the western end of the Coxey army. The advance guard of which has crossed the Ohio river and enter Pennsylvania. The board adopted a resolution empowering the local health boards [illegible] on the western border, to [illegible] in all cases of bodies of men traveling together.

Coxey Gets a Brief Extension.

WASHINGTON May 11.—General Coxey appeared before the district commissioners and after assuring them that he was using all possible diligence in seeking a new camping ground was granted an extension of the time in which he must remove from his present quarters. He was given until this afternoon to vacate the premises. Before going to the commissioners Coxey attempted to induce Health Officer Hamm to reconsider his condemnation of the camp but Mr. Hammett refused to retract.

Kelly's Army Makes Slow Progress.

DES MOINES Ia. May 11.—Kelly's army, on its way down the Des Moines river, reached a point in Marion county, between forty and fifty miles from Des Moines. There is no fixed camp but the army lies scattered along five or ten miles. Two or three boatloads of provisions are on the way from Des Moines. The army is well supplied with provisions, the farmers of the county through which they passed bringing ample quantities of food.

Kelly Barred Out of Keokuk.

KEOKUK, Ia. May 11.—Under an act of the legislature giving cities under special charters such power the city council last night passed an ordinance which will effectually bar Commodore Kelly's army from Keokuk. It quarantines the city against invasion by paupers and those exposed to contagious disease.

Sweetland Must Stand Trial.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Captain Sweetland, of the Connecticut Commonwealers, was held in $500 bail for unlawfully parading. David Tousseau became his bondsman. Sweetland says transportation to Newark has been provided and the army will start today.

A Use for Monmouth Race Track.

EATONTOWN, N J, May 11.—Sheriff Woolley has sold the personal property of the Monmouth Park Race Track association to satisfy a confessed judgment held by Track Superintendent Van Keuren for $4,075. The sale aggregated $4,-$00, $900 less than the judgment and costs. Mr Van Kueren says the race track is to be used during the present season for training purposes. One hundred horses are now here.

A Herd of Steers Tramp on Children.

LANCASTER Pa., May 11.—A herd of thirty steers coming down Duke street charged into a hundred school children, trampling ten of them. All of them were painfully injured, but only one, Florence E Kruse, seriously. The children had just been dismissed from school, and their cries attracted the steers, who were being driven past at the time.

His Arm Torn Off.

READING, Pa., May 11.—Frank Strelusli, an employe of the Reading Foundry company, while running a cinder churn attempted to throw off a belt, when his right arm was caught in the gearing and completely torn off between the elbow and wrist. The arm was also mashed above the elbow.

AN UPRISING IMMINENT

The Coke Workers Wrought Up to a State of Frenzy.

COMPANIES IMPORTING NEW MEN.

It Is Not Unlikely That Further Scenes of Bloodshed Will Follow—Brief Notes of the Great Coal Strike—The Coming Fuel Famine.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 11.—Not since the beginning of the strike, not even in connection with the wild scenes attending the killing of Engineer Paddock has there been such excitement as is now developing in this region, particularly in the southern end of Fayette county section. The introduction of outriders to take the place of the striking cokeworkers has been commenced. The strikers, especially the Slavs and Poles are simply furious. They were startled and enraged last night by the actual appearance of an advance guard of imported foreigners who have been run into the Morewood plant of the H. C. Frick Coke company. They are engaged to go to work at the old rates, and most of them are reported as inexperienced men. There were a hundred men in the company.

It is generally believed that the hurried preparations being made, that are keeping the strikers up and alert, look to an attack in such force that the deputies on guard will be swept away in case the new men go to work. The situation is alarming as 10,000 men are expected at Scottdale, and it is not probable the leaders will be able to keep them within bounds.

Strike Sympathizers Becoming Violent.

CLEARFIELD Pa., May 11.—Three tenement houses belonging to the W H Wigton Mining company, at Morrisdale, were burned yesterday, and it is asserted that the strikers set them on fire. William Dugan, of Osceola a labor agitator, and one of the organizers in the Miners' association, attacked William Wigton, a mine owner, and beat him severely. The causes leading up to the affray cannot be learned, but it is thought that it grew out of the strike. Sheriff Carden has sent out six deputies to watch the property of the company.

West Virginia Operators Defiant.

CHARLESTON W Va., May 11.—The New River Coke and Coal exchange met at Clifton Forge, Va. and unanimously resolved to send no delegates to the Cleveland convention. The operators posted notices telling the miners to go to work next Monday or consider themselves discharged and to get out. The issue is awaited with anxiety.

The Coming Coal Famine.

BALTIMORE, May 11.—A large consumer of bituminous coal in this city offered $600 for 100 tons of the fuel, but could not get it. There is no soft coal here for sale save small lots at retail. It is believed that a coal famine will be in full force by the middle of next week unless something new develops.

The Strikers Weakened.

CARROLLTON O., May 11.—Seventy-five coal miners marched into Malvern to drive miners from the mines. Sixty Winchesters in the hands of determined men awaited any assault upon the mines, and after a caucus the strikers headed homeward.

Independent Race Track Men.

BROOKLYN May 11.—Secretary McIntyre, of the Brooklyn Jockey club said things would be run just the same at the Brooklyn handicap next Tuesday as they always were. "We are not concerned or interested with the decision of Judge Pryer," he said "or in any opinion Corporation Counsel McDonald may render as to it, or in any attitude Mayor Schieren may assume."

"ADAMANT" WALL PLASTER!

The New, Cheap Substitute for Common Plaster.

It is very hard and very adhesive; it does away with the waiting and shrinkage of double coating, as the brick is not saturated with water, as it is usually, before the plaster is put on; it costs originally but little more than fine lime, and in dry and its superior qualities is still more economical in the end; it never wastes several weeks or months for the walls to dry out, it does not crack or fall off, and in the case of leakage it is applied easily at any good pl. terer; it is the only material with which repairing can be done neatly and to stay.

PRESS OF A BIG CITY.

NEWSPAPERS AND NEWSPAPER MEN OF THE WESTERN METROPOLIS.

John Calhoun Started the First Journal There—Storey and The Times—Medill and The Tribune—The News-Record, The Inter Ocean and The Herald.

The first newspaper ever published in Chicago was The Weekly Democrat. It was established 40 years ago by a young man named John Calhoun, who had been a printer on The Eagle at Watertown, N. Y.

Having concluded that the east was too slow for him, he started west one September morning with a complete outfit for the publication of a weekly paper. It took him about four weeks to get from Watertown to Chicago, and when he got there he found the population of the place to be not more than 800 souls. There was no finished building in the entire village in which he could rent space for publication, press and editorial room, so he fell to and with his own hands helped to lath a room in a not yet completed structure. The day the first issue of his paper was printed was one of great excitement in the little hamlet by the lake shore, and the sheets that were then thrown off from the hand press were regarded by the inhabitants as evidences of a distinctly forward step in the history of the settlement. It is probably not necessary to say that among the articles in that first number was one predicting that Chicago would one day be larger that New York. Shortly afterward Mr. Calhoun was elected a justice of the peace and in time became chief justice of the supreme court of the state of Illinois. How long he remained in the newspaper business I do not know, and if The Democrat which he started be still in existence it is in a form so obscure as to attract no attention and to be utterly unknown to the great world.

It would be interesting to trace from this humble journalistic beginning the history of that marvelous thing, the press of Chicago. It would be a chronicle filled with thrilling incidents and detailing the deeds of men of extraordinary force. Perhaps the most extraordinary of them all would be Wilbur F. Storey, the shrewd Vermont Yankee who, after learning the printer's trade in the shadows of the Green mountains, drifted west, located first in South Bend, Ind., and afterward published the Detroit Free Press for some years before going to Chicago. There he succeeded in making The Times the greatest newspaper of the west if not of the world. There he virtually introduced the "special dispatch" as well as many other of the most important features that differentiate the journalism of today from that of the fathers. When he was in his prime, he once said to a subordinate that he did not wish his newspaper to live after him; he desired the world to understand that he was the newspaper, and that without the guidance of his genius it could not be perpetuated. Later, after his brain had been partially overwhelmed by the lethal wave that finally quite submerged it, he changed his mind and planned to leave the property in the hands of a board of managers who should pay its profits up to a certain point to his relatives and after that to designated charities in the city of his adoption. This plan was never carried out, and the paper, though still a journalistic entity (it belongs to the estate of Carter H. Harrison), has dropped out of the first rank of Chicago newspapers.

Of the men who still guide the journals of Chicago, but one of the old school is left. Joseph Medill, the editor and chief proprietor of The Tribune, was a member of the general class which included Thurlow Weed, Horace Greeley, James Gordon Bennett, Henry J. Raymond, George D. Prentice, Charles A. Dana and Wilbur F. Storey. Mr. Medill is now 71 and for several years has lived most of the time in southern California. But notwithstanding the fact that his form is no longer seen and his voice no longer heard in the office of his newspaper he still directs its policy and writes many of its editorials, some of which he sends by telegraph.

When he took The Tribune in 1855, after having virtually started the Cleveland Leader, it was not a success. It became one shortly thereafter. Mr. Medill was the virtual discoverer of Abraham Lincoln. His first vote was cast for Clay. He was in at the birth of the Republican party. He was mayor of Chicago just after the great fire, and it was during his term and his subsequent brief sojourn in Europe that The Tribune received its only setback. Mr. Horace White, then being the editor, caused the paper to support Greeley. When Mr. Medill returned to the editorial chair, he swung the paper again into line with his party, and its progress since has been steady and continuous.

The Tribune's chief competitor for the favor of the Republican party in Chicago is The Inter Ocean, which was started in 1872 by John Young Scannon, who bought the franchise, practically all that was left after the big fire, of the Chicago Republican, that had been Charles A. Dana's paper. Scannon had to abandon the enterprise not long after its establishment, but it was taken up by The Inter Ocean Publishing company. Elijah Halford, known to the world as President Harrison's private secretary, was the first managing editor, William Penn Nixon the first business manager. F. W. Palmer, afterward public printer; Gilbert Pierce, later United States minister to Spain, and Melville E. Stone were among those who began with The Inter Ocean. It received great impetus when The Tribune decided to support Greeley in 1872. Its present publisher, Herman H. Kohlsaat, began life as a cash boy at $2 a week, but he wanted to go to work in a newspaper office and got a place as office boy with The Tribune. His mother objected. He predicted that some time he would himself own a newspaper and is busy now verifying that prophecy. Before he bought into The Inter Ocean, however, he made much money as a salesman and some fame as the inventor of a new style of lunchroom. He is a man of great energy and keen journalistic sense.

Next in order of age comes The News, which was born in 1875. Melville E. Stone and William Dougherty believed that Chicago was a good place for a 1 cent newspaper. They succeeded in persuading Percy Meggy, who had some money, that they were right. There were no 1 cent pieces circulating in Chicago at that time, and the early days of the life of The News were not days of plenty. Dougherty was the first to get out. Meggy paid him $55 for one-third interest. Then Meggy, after sinking $18,000, abandoned the enterprise. Then Stone, who had no money, but lots of faith in the scheme, succeeded in interesting Victor F. Lawson. Lawson was a native of Chicago, whose father had left him some property, including The Skandinaven, a Swedish-Norwegian newspaper. He put up the money needed and agreed to pay Stone a regular salary as managing editor. After a time Stone got one-third interest in the paper back, but a few years ago sold out again to Mr. Lawson, who has since been sole owner of the paper. A peculiarity of The News was its four editions daily—one in the morning, one at 12 o'clock noon, one at 3 p. m. and one at 5 p. m. Two or three years ago it was decided to separate the morning and afternoon editions, and to the morning paper was given the name of The Record, with a separate management and separate plant. Mr. Lawson is but little over 40 years of age. He still devotes all his time to the direction of his two newspapers and stands in high regard in the business and social world as well as in journalistic circles. It is in the columns of The News that Eugene Field has printed most of his late work.

It was in 1881 that the Chicago Herald was established by a number of bright, enthusiastic young men from the offices of the older papers. Like many another journalistic enterprise, The Herald saw some days of uncertainty, but in 1892, when the energy of James W. Scott and the money of J. R. Walsh, the owner of the Western News company, were added to the resources of the paper, a period of phenomenal growth and prosperity began. No backward steps have since been taken by the paper, which now adorns a shining place in the front rank of American journals.

Among the charms of the Chicago Herald have been its clean, beautiful typography and the pure white paper stock upon which it is printed. Much of the success of the paper has been due to H. W. Seymour, the managing editor, whose assistants have always been men of ability and energy. Walter Wellman, who has gone north to look for the pole, was for some years connected with The Herald and originated many of the features which gave it individuality in the early days. The Evening Post is, in a way, an afternoon edition of The Herald, being owned by the same stockholders, although printed from a different plant and conducted by a separate staff.

The Chicago Journal, published every afternoon, is still conducted somewhat upon the old school plan, but it doubtless pleases its constituency quite as well as the newer journals do theirs. So much space is required even briefly to mention the giants of the Chicago press that none is left to devote to the lesser lights or the periodicals, of which there are many and printed in many languages.

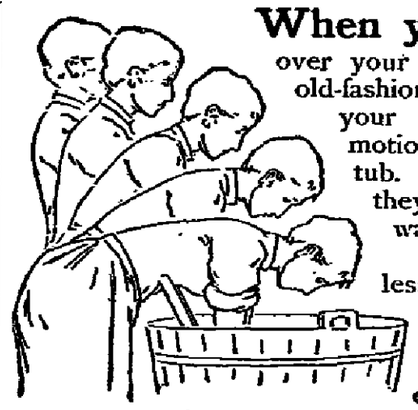
When you're Rubbing



over your washboard, in that painful, old-fashioned way, these are some of your positions. Just try these motions, up and down, without the tub. That will prove how hard they are. Then try Pearline's way of washing.

That will prove how needless and absurd they are. Without the washboard and the rubbing on it, and without bending over the wash-tub or bobbing up and down over it—you save the wear to your clothes and the work for your back. That's Pearline's way. Directions on every package.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 390 JAMES PYLE, New York.

You Should See Them!

THERE is some author, man or woman, whose books you read, whose manner of thought and expression suit you, whom you would like very much to meet personally. You would like to know

How He or She Looks,

And what the life record has been of one who has pleased you so well. All people cannot meet their favorite authors, their heroes of the political field or those whose lives have interested them in any way, but all feel a keen satisfaction of gazing upon the very features of those who have so interested them and of reading just what they did and what they had accomplished in life. You know of numerous authors and you wonder how old they are, how they look and what the prospects are as to whether or not they will produce more work to please you. You believe in or are opposed to the various men in politics, and of them you wonder the same thing.

YOU WOULD LIKE TO SEE THEM,

You would like to learn all about them. The remarkable work,

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

Will gratify your desires as nearly as may be. It consists of 16 parts, one of which is issued weekly, and each part contains 16 pages, while upon each page is a magnificent portrait, reproduced from a recent photograph, 10x14 inches in dimensions, of some notable person. Beneath the photograph, printed in clear type, is

The Story, Well Told,

Of that person's life up to the present time, just what he or she has done and how the position now occupied was attained. Bound together, these 16 parts will make a volume of 256 pages, containing the splendid portraits and the history of 256 prominent Americans now living, those whom you read about daily in the newspapers, those who are doing things. This book can be procured only through the ARGUS and MERCURY. It is necessary to cut out one coupon and send it to the office, accompanied with 10 cents, to receive in return one of the parts, something that would not cost less than $1 or $2 at the price not long ago prevailing for a work of such magnitude and quality. The terms upon which the ARGUS and MERCURY offers

"America's Greatest Men and Women"

are as follows:

You Can Get This Work Only Through the Daily Argus and Mercury.

HERE ARE the TERMS.

IN EVERY ISSUE OF THE ARGUS AND MERCURY will appear a numbered coupon. Cut this coupon out and bring or forward it, together with TEN CENTS, to the Coupon Department of the ARGUS and MERCURY and there will be delivered or mailed to you one number of the series as above. The remaining parts can be obtained as issued, one each week, by the readers of the ARGUS and MERCURY under the same conditions.

DON'T BE DECEIVED by any crafty dealer who tells you he has something else that's "just as good" as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Is it probable? The only medicine which is guaranteed by its makers. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, they'll return the money.

It's a special medicine for young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical "change of life;" for women approaching confinement; nursing mothers; and every woman who is run-down.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—I want to say that your Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Discovery have done me more good than the physician who has treated me. After taking your medicines, I gained several pounds. I think your "Prescription" the best medicine in the world for ladies.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS IN SULLIVAN COUNTY ARE DOING.

All the News from All Parts of the County—Many Matters of Interest Condensed from Our Sullivan Exchanges and Contributed by Wide-Awake Correspondents.

—The Roscoe and Rockland Red Men are preparing to celebrate July 4th.

—Nine houses are in process of erection in Roscoe.

—Fish and Game Protector Wilson was in Willowemoc, this week, securing evidence of violations of the fish law.

—Rockland's Excise Board granted nine hotel licenses, four in Livingston Manor, four in Roscoe and one in DeBruce. The fee was $75.

—Sherwood & Hartig will erect a number of cottages on Island Park, this summer.

—The General Term has ordered a new trial, in the suit of John T. Davis vs. Anna R. Kling, to recover for milk delivered at defendant's creamery, at Callicoon Depot.

—A young Englishman, named James Whittaker, who was employed by Bert Hill, of Hurleyville, entered the house, Sunday, during the absence of the family and stole $9 and two gold rings. A warrant was secured, and the boy was arrested at Livingston Manor, Tuesday, and sent to the Monticello jail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

—The Globe House, at Fremont Centre, was destroyed by fire, last Saturday night. The fire is supposed to have started from the chimney.

Speared a Shad in Saw Mill Brook—Improvements at the Sullivan County Park—Memorial Day Events—Licenses Granted—A Big Trout—Band Election—Many Other Notes.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—A shad weighing about two pounds was speared in the saw mill brook, near the Sullivan street bridge, Tuesday, by Isaac Fort.

—The Hornbeck house recently purchased by Joseph Clark, of Ellenville, is undergoing repairs inside and out, and promises to be an ornament to our village.

—The new wagon making shop built by Dr. Piper is a well appointed building and is occupied by J. S. Dubois, formerly of Middletown, who is a first class mechanic.

—Jacob Helm's new house, occupied by D. Z. Woods, adds materially to the beauty of Pine street.

—A ball game, a hop at Dorrance Hall, a visit from the Citizens Band of Ellenville to our own band and an excursion from New York to the park are among the probable events of Decoration Day at Wurtsboro.

—Miss Hattie Schoonmaker, of Yonkers, spent last week at her home in this village.

—Will Helm, paper hanger and painter, is being assisted by Frank Allan, of Monticello.

—Fred Babcock is dealing extensively in wall paper.

—The Townsley place is receiving a general cleaning up by Mr. Merritt.

—There isn't an empty house in the village and there is a brisk demand for more. Carpenters are also in demand.

—G. F. Harding has the Joseph Banks property on Kingston avenue for sale. The building lots are very desirable at $100 each, at which price they are offered.

—"Charlie" Parsells, of the Middletown Steam Laundry, formerly of the ARGUS office, spent Sunday at home, here.

—Monday was the annual meeting day of the Excise Board and about the usual number of licenses were granted in Mamakating. It was a sort of gala day and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

—Chas. M. Wilson is selling groceries on the road for Woods & Maclay.

—James Reed caught the largest trout of the season in the kill, near Haven, a few days ago. Weight three pounds.

—Patrick McElroy has completed an addition to his residence on Canal street, which adds materially to the value of his property.

—One year ago there wasn't a building on the Sullivan County Club's property. To-day there is a $25,000 club house and fifteen cottages nearly all completed, and building is going on steadily. There will be a special half fare excursion on the O. and W., May 29, 30 and 31, which will doubtless bring a crowd of city visitors to the club. The road from Mountain Dale to the club will not be built as it would be no nearer than the already good road from this station.

—The annual election of officers of the Wurtsboro Band was held, Saturday evening last, and resulted as follows:

Leader—Chas. W. Roesch.
Asst. Leader—Wm. F. R. Helm.
Manager—Wm. Beuford.
Treasurer—Leander Wakeman.
Secretary—Geo. T. Harding.

It may be added that the organization was never in a more flourishing condition.

—Mrs. Foster and son, George, of New York, are guests of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Pallcox.

—Henry Leigh, the sub-tax and claim agent of the O. and W., is busy these days. His adjustments of claims for damaged lands are usually satisfactory.

—J. S. Dubois is general agent for the Champion mower.

—The first band concert of the season, at the band stand, will be given Tuesday evening, May 28th. An excellent programme will be announced later.

—Chauncey B. Newkirk, formerly of Middletown, has rented and occupies the John Keaton house, corner of Sullivan and Third streets.

What Will Do It?

MEDICAL writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it.

Distressing Kidney and Bladder diseases relieved in six hours by the "THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN KIDNEY CURE." This new remedy is a great surprise and delight to physicians on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or female. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is your remedy. Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown N. Y.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE

The Bill to Divide Monmouth County Receives Its Death Blow.

TRENTON, May 11.—The bill to divide Monmouth county has caused more bad feeling in the legislature than any measure that has come before that body during the present session. Messrs Flynn, Coyle and Wilson, Democrats, quarreled when it was up the other day, and now the Republicans are in a bitter dispute over its disposition. The bill has not yet been signed by Speaker Holt, and Mr. Walters, the Monmouth member who has advocated it, charged him yesterday afternoon with unfairness in holding it back. The speaker denied the charge, and said that the bill was passed with the express understanding that it was not to go further than the house. He said that Mr. Walters got it through by making such an agreement, and declared that he told the members that after the bill was through the house he cared nothing about it. He wanted the bill to go over to the senate and then the responsibility for its defeat would fall upon Senator Bradley.

Mr Olcott offered a resolution instructing the speaker to hold the bill. Messrs. Lewis, Coyle, Storrs and others said they had voted for the bill through a misapprehension and favored the motion. It passed by a vote of 50 to 9. The speaker asserts that the bill will never see daylight.

The house passed bills abolishing boards of assessments in Jersey City and Newark, and legislating out of office the boards of health of Newark and Jersey City.

In the senate the bill providing for a non partisan pilotage commission, three from each party, to be appointed by the governor, was passed. The bill granting an appropriation of $1,000 for the Essex Troop was defeated.

World's Fair Diploma Counterfeiters.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Chief Hazen, of the secret service bureau, treasury department, has begun an active crusade against persons who are using counterfeit reproductions of World's fair medals and diplomas for advertising purposes. Counterfeiting of any of these diplomas or medals is punishable by a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment at hard labor not more than ten years or both. The government intends to prosecute violations of this act, and proceedings will begin as soon as proof of guilt is obtained.

Croker's Resignation Accepted.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Richard Croker's official connection with Tammany Hall ceased yesterday, when he handed in his resignation as chairman of the finance committee. The resignation was accepted. No one has yet been appointed leader in his place, nor will there be until after the next campaign. John McQuade will succeed Mr Croker as chairman of the finance committee. The position will be merely honorary and will not carry the power attached to it in the past.

Death of a Venerable Minister.

TRENTON, May 11.—Rev. Dr. John Hall, for fifty years pastor, and for the past ten years pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church of this city, died yesterday, aged 88. He was a native of Philadelphia where he studied and practiced law. At the age of 30 he entered the ministry, and has become widely known through his works upon religious topics. He leaves one son and five daughters, the former having been private secretary to three of New Jersey's governors.

Opposed to Samoan Annexation.

LONDON, May 11.—At a meeting of the parliamentary colonial party Sir George Grey, formerly governor of New Zealand, deprecated the proposal to annex Samoa. All Australian governments, he said, desired to prevent any further occupation of Pacific islands, and if England should set the example other powers would be justified in doing likewise. It was his impression that if Samoa was left alone it could govern itself.

The Vigilant to Sail for Europe.

PORT JEFFERSON, L. I., May 11.—The Vigilant was launched from Mathers & Woods' ways at Port Jefferson yesterday afternoon. Captain Jeffrey, of Islip, who has been engaged to sail the yacht across the ocean, took charge of the craft this morning, and she sailed this afternoon. Captain Hank Haff expects to join the yacht in English waters. He will go over in Mr Gould's steamer.

Election Officers Snub the Court.

CHICAGO, May 11.—The board of election commissioners refused the request of the grand jury to produce the ballots cast in the Twenty-ninth ward at the special mayoralty election last fall. The jury's request was backed up with a subpoena issued by Judge Chetlain, and the election commissioners will now be asked to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court.

The Civil Marriage Bill Defeated.

BUDA PESTH, May 11.—The house of magnates rejected the civil marriage bill by a majority of 21. This action of the upper house has created great excitement and engendered a strong and widespread hostile feeling. It is expected that the ministry will resign.

An Anarchist's Mysterious Death.

FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1894.

The Senate made haste very slowly, yesterday, a single item of the chemical schedule having been disposed of. The Republican policy as shown by their performances, yesterday, will be to seek to delay action by offering amendments to every item.

Not only has immigration from Europe fallen off over one-half from what it was at this time last year, but many recent immigrants, disgusted with labor conditions here, are returning to their homes. Hard times have done more toward solving the immigration problem than legislation could have accomplished in a decade.

A Kansas negro, who for three years has been drawing a pension of $24 a month under the name of Gillespie, and another of $12, under the name of Brown offered the explanation that he served in the war under both names. It would be interesting to know how the examining surgeons were able to rate the same disabilities as worth $24, when the pensioner masqueraded as Gillespie and as worth but $12 when he showed up as Brown.

The government crop report for May deals principally with winter wheat prospects and is fairly encouraging. The promise of a large yield is not as good as it was a month ago but is considerably better than it was a year ago. The outlook is not flattering in Kansas, is poor in Nebraska and very bad in California, where the season has been most unpropitious, but in all the other wheat growing states farmers may hope for good harvests if the May and June rains are copious and well distributed; and abundant rains may reasonably be expected for since March 1st the rainfall, east of the Mississippi, has been much below the average.

Richard Croker, during the nine years that he was at the head of Tammany Hall, displayed wonderful capacity for leadership. His rule was firm, but apparently just, and the one object always in view was the good of the organization. He demanded and received unquestioning loyalty from his lieutenants, and being broad enough to know that Tammany could not retain a hold on popular confidence unless it gave the city good and economical government he insisted on honesty and fidelity on the part of all Tammany men in the public service. He made mistakes, but they were few in number, and not serious in their consequences. In his relations with the Democracy of the State and nation he was never dictatorial nor arbitrary, and it is an open secret, that, had his advice been followed, some of the blunders into which the State organization was betrayed could have been avoided, but in State politics he sacrificed his personal judgment to his sense of loyalty to his friends and followed where they insisted on leading. Despite the attempts of bitterly partisan sheets to besmirch his personal character and impugn his honesty, there are very few who believe such charges. He retires from the leadership of Tammany with the organization in infinitely better condition than it has been in years,—stronger in numbers and stronger in its hold on public confidence than when he took charge of its affairs. It will be well for Tammany and for the Democratic party if Mr Croker's successor is as broad and far seeing, as honest and courageous, as unselfish and as loyal to Democracy as the leader who has ceased to lead.

A Big Snake or a Big Story.

From the Republican.

About fifteen minutes before seven o'clock, yesterday morning, an employee of the Mayfield Hammer Company, who resides on the West Hill, was proceeding to his work and while crossing the bridge near the stone mill saw an immense snake sunning itself in about the center of the structure. He secured a large limb from an adjacent tree and with a single stroke killed the reptile. When measured it was found to be 10 feet 5½ inches long and 6 inches around the body.

CAN'T KILL TIP.

The Mischief-ous Elephant Refuses to Eat Poisoned Galettes—Given Another Day of Life.

By United Press.

New York, May 11.—An attempt was made to administer poison to Tip, the Central Park elephant, today. He was first given some carrots without poison and then others with poison in them. He rejected the latter, and although it was said some of the poison must have been retained, Tip, three hours after, showed no signs of poison. Several other attempts were made to administer poison by means of carrots, apples, potatoes, bread, etc., all of which Tip ejected or would'nt touch at all. It was then announced that no further attempts to kill him would be made to-day.

Early Planted Potatoes—Went to the Circus—First to Plant Corn—Wouldn't Have Him.

Correspondence Argus and Mercury

—Those who planted potatoes before the heavy fall of snow in April, are the people that are right "in it" now as the potatoes are up and doing nicely.

—As usual Hunting's circus drew quite a crowd from this village to Middletown, Tuesday.

—C. S. Berseland takes the lead in planting corn in this section, having his all planted.

—The Danton Sunday School held a special meeting, Tuesday evening, in the lecture room of the church, to make preparations for an entertainment at the church on Children's day. Plans were made made for the preparation of a very interesting programme.

—Your correspondent was driving on one of the main roads, one night recently, and drove up unnoticed behind another rig, in which were a man and woman. The evening was very still and I could hear the low, passionate, pleading words of a man. Suddenly the woman's voice sounded out sweet and clear with, "under no circumstances can I let you have my hand." Your correspondent whistled and the rig disappeared with a whizz and a bang as if the horse had felt something drop.

DIED.

BULL—At Circleville, May 9th, Mr. Caroline Bull, in her sixty-eighth year. Interment at Circleville.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was it supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and, by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Adress,

MAY DAYS

May not all be good days for using Hammocks, Croquet, Tennis or Base Ball supplies, but some surely will be.

Prepare for the bright days by having these things ready for use when such days come.

Most persons know we are headquarters for summer goods, both in stock and low prices. Let us prove the same to you too.

The newest things in Stationery of course.

DID YOU EVER TRY TO SAVE $500

Or even half of it? It was a tough job, wasn't it? You often felt like using the money, didn't you? That was because you knew you had it in your pocket or the bank. Could you save up $250 to buy a piano? Doubtful, but you wouldn't miss $10 a month if you could pay it that way and get a first-class Piano from the start.

That is just what we are in business for. Although we sell Pianos and Organs for cash, and at prices that cannot be beaten in the world, we also sell the same instruments on credit terms, asking only a small per cent. for the accommodation. It's the best and easiest way that you can secure a Piano or Organ. The latter are only $5 per month.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS FROM NEWBURGH.
Loitering on Linden Avenue and Arrested by the Police—Then out of Town.
Residents of Linden avenue noticed two strange men hanging around that thoroughfare, yesterday afternoon, whose actions caused the suspicion that they were there for no lawful purpose. The police were informed and at 6 o'clock one of the men was arrested at the corner of John street. He said that his companion was making a call in the neighborhood, and pointed the police out to the kitchen door of one of the dwellings on the avenue, where the young fellow was calling on the cook.
They claimed to have come from Newburgh and as they answered the description of the Newburgh suspects they were taken to police headquarters, where they were examined by Recorder Bradner. Marshal Garvie was communicated with by telephone and gave one of the parties a good character, but did not know the other one.
They were without money and when the Recorder had explained to them that they were liable to imprisonment if vagrants they asked for accommodations to the lockup for the night, promising to leave town early this morning.

MIDDLETOWN WHEELMEN.
The Bicycle Club Re-organized—Officers Elected—To Take a Spin to Greenwood Lake.
About twenty-five of Middletown's wheelmen met at the Commercial Hotel, last evening, for the purpose of re-organizing the Bicycle Club. Mr. Geo. H. Hitchcock was elected temporary chairman.
It was voted to name the organization "The Middletown Wheelmen," and the following officers were elected:
President—Charles Bigham.
Vice President—George H. Millspaugh.
Secretary—Ludson F. Rose.
Treasurer—Walter E. Benedict.
Captain—Charles L. Sweezy.
First Lieutenant—E. A. Smith.
Second Lieutenant—Robert Van Selver.
Bugler—Geo. H. Bevier.
Color Bearer—Daniel Schafer.
Messrs. Harry A. Smith, Geo. H. Millspaugh, and Walter E. Benedict were appointed a committee on rules.
It was decided to make the first run on Sunday next, to Greenwood Lake, take dinner and spend about three hours there, returning by way of Chester and Goshen. They will leave the Commercial Hotel at 9 a. m., and invite all wheelmen to accompany them whether members of the club or not.
It is expected that the club will have a membership of at least fifty within a month.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.
The Re-dedication Exercises on Monday.
The re-dedication of the Soldiers' monument, in Orrell Park, on Monday evening, at seven o'clock, will be an interesting affair.
The ceremonies will be under the auspices of Capt. Jackson Rank, G. A. R., and will be participated in by other organizations, all of whom will assemble at the old monument site and march to the park.
Hon. M. H. Green, who presided at the original dedication in 1870, will also preside on this occasion.
The oration will be delivered by George E. Decker, Esq., and the opening prayer and benediction by Rev. Dr. Robinson, of the First Congregational Church.
The music will be furnished by the Pioneer Band.

Sussex County Bible Society.
The seventy-seventh annual meeting of the Sussex County Bible Society will be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Andover, on Wednesday, June 6, commencing at 10 o'clock. The annual sermon will be preached by Rev. A. E. Tuttle, D. D., of Newark, in the forenoon.

"ON TO WALDEN"
Practicability of the Extension of the Newburgh Electric Road to the Walden Valley Villages—A Connection with the Middletown-Goshen System Will Come in Time.
In the annual report of Mr. John F. Tuthill, Secretary of the Newburgh Board of Trade, appears the following paragraph, which ought to open the eyes of those who stand in the way of progress:
"On to Walden!" has for years been the cry with Newburgh's business community, owing to the immense trade on the table land the intervening hills have made it. Middletown, Pine Bush and Pleasant Valley have interested railroad facilities. All sorts of schemes were suggested to bring about the desired end, but they lacked a well-defined organization. The initial step has finally been taken, and members of the Board of Trade have organized and incorporated an electric railroad, with Orange Lake as its present destination, and Walden but five miles away. What must desired point will probably be reached are the years to come, and Newburgh will be able to greet its Walden and Montgomery patrons at all hours of every day in the year.
When the Middletown-Goshen Traction Company was organized, the Argus made a prediction that at no distant day the road would extend through to Newburgh, the distance from the Middletown terminus to the terminus of the Newburgh road at Walden being so short that one or the other of the companies would make the connection.
Middletown and Goshen now secure the bulk of the trade of that section; if Newburgh runs an electric road to Walden it will secure more than its share; if our people extended, Middletown and Goshen will hold their share.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD.
Assembly Grants to Another Monopoly—Other Legislative Doings—Various Items.
It is plainly evident to all, and especially to those who have opposed the electric road, that it is a good thing and gaining in favor every hour. The line completed thus far is so short that it is hardly a fair test of the benefits expected, but if the company's plans are carried out as they should be Middletown will never have occasion to regret that the franchise was granted.
The care with which cars are run renders accidents almost an impossibility. There are few horses now that even take a second look at the cars.
The company has issued scrip books containing thirty tickets, which are sold for one dollar, and they be used by the person to whom they are issued and members of his immediate family. They are convenient, reduce the fare nearly one half, and will be very popular with regular patrons of the road.

TROTTERS AT AUCTION.
Forty-nine Horses from Buchanan's Farm Sold at Low Prices.
Forty-nine head of horses from Charles Buchanan's Stony Point stock farm were sold at auction, yesterday, in New York, at prices ranging from $10 to $300. The total amount realized was $10,275, the average price being $209.69. Grey Baron, five years old, by Simmons, dam, Daybreak, by Hazzell, driven in eighty winning races, last year, was bought by G. M. Kerner for the very low price of $300.
Among the Orange county buyers at the sale were Ira Ryerson, of Goshen, who paid $110 for a three-year-old mare by Antonio; J. S. Coster, Goshen, $95 for three-year-old gelding, by Hillside: Samuel Wilkin, Chester, $90 for Berenice, by Messenger Duroc, seventeen years old, and $85 for Lady Tilton by Harry's Membrino Patchen, fifteen years old.

DON'T FOOL THE REPORTERS.
The Law Now Makes it a Criminal Act With Severe Penalties.
People who attempt to impose upon reporters by giving false information will find by reference to our telegraphic columns that the act is now a misdemeanor. The Argus has had little cause of complaint in this direction as its friends can always be depended upon to give correct information; but there are people who think it a good joke to give reporters fake stories and to these the bill evidently applies.

The Delaware Valley Railroad Sale.
The Lehigh and Hudson railroad, the Delaware Valley road, which cuts principally on paper, was sold by the Sheriff, at Stroudsburg, Tuesday. The charter which calls for a road from Tuxedo, N. Y., across Lemon, Cuddy, Minisink and Blue mountains to Manunka, Pa., was bought by Williamson parties, who may organize a new company and build the road.

AT THE COUNTY SEAT
INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.
Supposed Mad Dogs Shot—Successful Entertainment at the M. E. Church—The Gale Walk—A Base Ball Club Organized—Meeting of Village Assessors.
From our regular correspondent.
—A dog belonging to a colored man named De Freece, which was foaming at the mouth and which was believed to be suffering from rabies, was killed, yesterday, after a chase across lots. This morning another dog which had shown signs of madness was also shot.
—The entertainment in the parlors of the M. E. Church, last night, was largely attended. The following fine programme was admirably rendered:
1. Rondo, Miss Vina Van Fleet and Mr. Ward
2. [illegible]
3. [illegible]
4. [illegible]
5. [illegible]
6. [illegible]
7. [illegible]
8. [illegible]
9. [illegible]
10. [illegible]
The work of getting up the entertainment was done by Miss Clara Reeve who is entitled to much credit for her success. The church will realize quite a large sum from the entertainment.
—The entertainment and cake walk, under the management of Prof. Henderson, of Newburgh, at Purdy's Hall, last night, was a great success. Colored people from Newburgh, Washingtonville, Pumpkintown, Middletown, Port Jervis and other parts of the county were present. A good programme, consisting of singing, recitations, fancy and break dancing, etc., was rendered. Dancing was then started and kept up until about 12 o'clock, when the floor was cleared for the walk, which was led by Fred Van Huff and Miss Osterhout, of Port Jervis. Seven couples followed the leaders in good style. Three couples walked so creditably, artistically and impressively that the judges were unable to decide which should take the cake, and they accordingly requested them. Van Etta, Broadhead and Banks and their partners to walk once more. The cake was finally given to Eugene Broadhead, the gentlemanly partner of the Banks House, Port Jervis, and his partner Miss Rose, Elmira, of Goshen, amid the cheers of approval of all present.
—The Goshen B. B. Club has engaged for the season with the following players: C. Tierney, p.; H. O'Neil, c.; J. Wardrop, 1st b.; C. Landy, 2nd. b.; J. Hafner, 3rd. b.; F. Silver, ss.; Gus. Gillispie, rf.; Dick Kipp, cf.; Ed. Farrell, lf. The club would like to arrange for games with clubs in this section.
—The Board of Village Assessors meets next Monday, at 2 p. m., at the corporation rooms to hear taxpayers feeling themselves aggrived.

THE BOILER EXPLODED.
Two Men Injured at New Paltz, Wednesday, One Serious.
The boiler of the steam saw mill on the Sander estate, near New Paltz, owned by John J. Gunderich, and operated by John G. Lefever, exploded, Wednesday afternoon, doing considerable damage. Mr. Lefever was thrown violently, his nose being broken. Harry Enderly fared much worse. He was thrown about twenty feet, struck heavily on his side and sustained serious internal injuries.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organs themselves, instead of the trouble. The noted specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, M. D., L. L. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the wonderful success attending the use of his Restorative Nervine, the marvelous nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other diseases originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these diseases is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, nervous debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opium or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price. $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

MY QUEER OLD WIFE.

A queer old lady is my wife
Who's strolled with me through life,
And I've tried to understand
So many years she has she
Is still a mystery sadly,
But I dote on my old Queen.

Sometimes she's more than one can be
And I consult with myself to agree
That I by no means know
Her mind at all, and we disagree,
Which leads to an argument—
She quite ignores my logic.

She has the queerest notions—why,
She thinks she knows as much as I
And is positive of it.
Of course no one could dispute
That I am smarter by far than she,
But women are queer!

Molecules in Matter.

It seems a difficult undertaking to accept the theory that granite, glass and precious stones, not excepting diamonds, are composed of independent particles that are continually in exceedingly rapid motion. These active molecules are said to rotate and swing around a central point with such force and rapidity that they constitute, to all intents and purposes, a solid mass. Upon being divided they whirl around a new center as rapidly as before, the molecules passing a given point some millions of times in a second of time. This theory would at first glance seem incompatible with the well understood belief in the hardness and impenetrability of the diamond, but this is easily explained. The almost incalculable rate of speed drives the atoms against the drill or cutting edge that seeks to penetrate it and dulls it without permitting it to make the slightest impression. On this theory it appears that glass cutting is merely the bringing together of two bodies consisting of molecules moving at different velocities. As a matter of course, the most powerful atoms break up the softer ones, and so this operation is merely a war of particles, in which the superior force is triumphant.—New York Ledger.

Sleepless and Voracious Larvæ.

Professor Lintner, New York's state entomologist, is of the opinion that the larvæ stage of many species of insects is one of sleepless activity, the grub feeding incessantly from the "moment of its birth." He says that it is doubtful if some species ever sleep or take a moment's rest. The voraciousness and rapid growth of these creatures may be better understood by making a statement of two facts: A certain flesh feeding larvæ—which simply means the infant state of a carrion beetle, whose scientific name would be of no particular interest to readers of The Republic—will consume in 24 hours 200 times his own weight, a parallel to which in the human race would be an infant consuming 1,500 pounds of nutriment on the first day of its existence! There are vegetable feeders — caterpillars — which, during their progress to maturity, increase in size 10,000 times during the first 30 days of their lives. To equal this remarkable growth a mature man would weigh scarcely less than 50 tons!—St. Louis Republic.

The Dutch System.

Professor Peabody, who gives in The Forum some facts concerning the Dutch system, says there are no great poorhouses and few ablebodied paupers in Holland. There is a tract of public land containing 5,000 acres. It is divided into six model farms, and to one of these is sent the poor person applying for public relief. If he voluntarily serves till he learns agriculture, he is allowed to rent a small farm for himself and be what is called a free farmer. Every pauper who is thus reclaimed to honest, regular industry is so much gain to the state. There is also a forced labor colony, where beggars and vagrants are sent and made to do farm and other work, whether they want to or not.

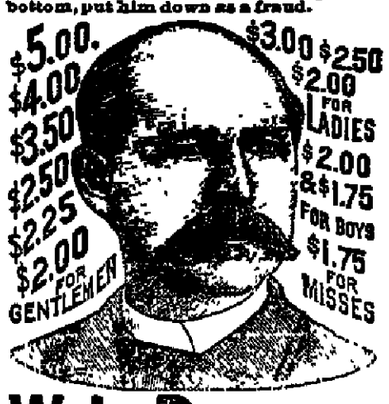
CAUTION.—If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them without name stamped on bottom, put him down as a fraud.



W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE BEST IN THE WORLD.

W. L. DOUGLAS Shoes are stylish, easy fitting, and give better satisfaction at the prices advertised than any other make. Try one pair and be convinced. The stamping of W. L. Douglas' name and price on the bottom, which guarantees their value, saves thousands of dollars annually to those who wear them. Dealers who push the sale of W. L. Douglas Shoes gain customers which helps to increase the sales on their full line of goods. The dealer who cuts prices to sell at a less profit, and who habitually sells shoes not advertised here, gives you conclusive proof that he is selling inferior shoes on which he makes a large profit. Take no substitute. If your dealer cannot supply you, send direct to factory, enclosing advertised price, stating size and width, plain or cap toe, and we will send you a pair. MENTION THIS PAPER.

THE OLDEST TWINS.

Elvira and Elmira Fife of Peterboro, N. H., Are Entitled to the Honor.

At Peterboro, N. H., live Elvira and Elmira Fife, who claim to be and probably are the oldest twins living. Next August they will be 83. At the age of 14 they entered the employ of a local manufacturing company, and for 60 years they remained on its pay roll, the maximum wages earned being 99 cents per day and the minimum 71 cents for three days' labor.

A Boston Journal reporter recently visited them.

"Is it true you have never ridden on a railroad train?" queried he.

"It is," was the reply, "and, what is more," said both in one voice, "we never will. Although the Boston and Maine railroad has run cars within 10 rods of our door ever since they built the road into this town, we have never yet entered a car. We came pretty near it at one time. A few years ago some of the townspeople wished us to take a ride in the cars, and we came so near it that we went to the depot, but backed out before we got aboard."

Nor have these ladies ever entered a theater, and very rarely did they enter society, and in all their lives they have been separated but 70 hours at any one interval, and when Elvira was taken ill and it was for a few days thought she could not recover Elmira was nearly crazy and threatened to commit suicide if her sister was taken away.

"I don't wish to live if the old woman," as they always call each other, "is taken away."

The strong resemblance between them is still as prominent as ever. One great peculiarity about these women has been that, although living in the same house and eating from the same table, they have always lived separately—that is, each has cooked her own meal. If one had a boiled dinner, the other had a boiled dinner, and it was not cooked in the same pot either. If one had a turkey, the other would buy a little larger one, and so in everything they vied with each other to see who would live the better.

A CLOSE RESEMBLANCE.

And It Led to a Horsewhipping and an Angry Wife.

"Say, now, lemme tell you something,' said the drummer who'd been looking in his pocket dictionary for the last 10 minutes for the word "respiratory," over which there was a dispute.

Everybody was willing he should tell all he knew, and he closed the book and continued:

"It was simply a coincidence. In other words, I resemble a Chicago man so closely that the young woman made a mistake."

"And precipitated herself and welcomed you home, of course," growled the old man with the Queen Anne chin

"Not that evening, old man. She was a young woman who was looking to precipitate a row, and I may add that she was successful. Don't all speak at once, but I'm the 'unknown man' who got horsewhipped on State street, Chicago, in July, 1892. It may have slipped your memory, but I haven't forgotten any of the particulars yet"

"Horsewhipped by a young woman, eh?" queried the metallic paint agent as he put on a knowing look

"Say, now, lemme tell you how it was It was one on me, of course, but it all came about through my being so stylish and good looking, you know Cashier of a bank made love to a beautiful girl and won her heart. Her father failed in biz, and the cashier threw her over Her love turned to hate, and she yearned for revenge She heard he was shining up to another girl, and she determined to take him down a peg or two The evening I arrived in Chicago was the date she had set for the little affair I put up at the Fremont and after supper took a walk"

"This heartbroken, revengeful girl expected to find the recreant cashier with a lady of course," cackled the paint man

"Of course and I was with a lady—my wife, you know Yes, my wife used to travel with me then. We were taking a little stroll, and the street was pretty clear of pedestrians when a young woman overtook us I hadn't caught sight of her yet when she cut with a rawhide and began to dust my jacket I don't deny that it was a real surprise party I was once picked up by a Texas steer but the surprise wasn't equal to the occasion"

"Did she say anything?" asked the man with the Queen Anne chin

"Say, now, lemme tell you that she did She had an exclamation for every cut She called me a heartless villain,' a perfidious wretch' and a dozen other things which didn't hit my character and conduct, and that rawhide kept after me like a swarm of bumblebees chasing a farmer's hired man. I got over it on the neck which lasted over a month Oh she meant business, she did"

"And the lady with you?"

"The lady with me? Say, now, lemme tell you that my wife ran into a hallway and yelled, 'Murder' and that's what brought the police to my rescue I was that surprised I couldn't even holler Just about the time a cop grabbed the girl she discovered that she had made a great mistake and she felt so cut up about it that I really pitied her Of course I had to accept her apologies and say it was all right, but I couldn't keep my feet still while doing it."

"And of course your wife accepted her apologies?" queried the glue factory drummer, who had been holding his breath.

"Say, now, lemme tell you that she didn't,' replied the victim. "That's where such mistakes do a power o' harm. It was all perfectly proper and as straight as a string, and yet my wife wouldn't speak to me for a month and is holding the 'coincidence' over my head yet."

"Do we understand," said the paint man after two minutes of silence, "do we understand that the mistaken young woman also apologized to your wife?"

"Say, now, lemme tell you something," petulantly exclaimed the coincidence chap as he got up to leave the smoker.

"All right, go ahead"

"It has just occurred to me that she didn't apologize, but I'm not going to raise any row about it, and if you fellers think yourselves so awfully smart just go ahead and swap lies and get off stale jokes and pat each other on the back for Smart Alecks! Say, now, lemme tell you I've got through and the whole gang of you can go to grass and nibble for fodder."—Detroit Free Press.

Then Mrs Jones got out of bed and shook him and pinched him until he woke Then he exclaimed

"How's the patient?"

Mrs Jones hurriedly said, "Come to bed, you old ox, and stop hacking up the furniture

ADULTERATED WINE

is injurious, but nothing gives strength, and tones up the stomach like a pure old port wine. "Royal Ruby Port," so called for its royal taste and ruby color, is an account of its purity, age and strength, particularly adapted for invalids, convalescents and the aged. Sold only in bottles (never in bulk) while cheap wine is sold by the gallon and gives a larger profit to the seller but less to the user. This wine is absolutely pure, and has the age without which no wine is fit to use. Be sure you get "Royal Ruby" quart bottles $1, pints 60 cts. Sold by

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AIMS AT SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

The Ways of Petit Jurors—Middletown's Growth—New Houses Built During the Year—Anxious for Reliable Information.

A very curious complication has arisen in Rahway, N. J., in consequence of two absolutely irreconcilable verdicts, rendered in a civil action and a criminal proceeding involving precisely the same facts. Mrs. Wenzel, a widow was employed as servant in the family of Charles Sauer. Sauer missed $180 and on searching Mrs. Wenzel's room that sum was found between the leaves of a prayer book, and despite the widow's assertions that the money was her savings, Sauer confiscated it. Mrs. Wenzel entered suit for its recovery and Sauer caused her arrest for larceny. The criminal case was tried first and although prominent citizens testified to having paid her bills of amounts similar to those found in the prayer book, she was convicted. The woman's suit for the recovery of the money came on, yesterday, and on precisely the same evidence, the jury rendered a verdict in her favor, so that if their view of the case is right she stands convicted of stealing her own money. Not unnaturally people are wondering what the Judge, who will have to sentence Mrs. Wenzel, next week, will do with her.

That Middletown is still growing and that, in spite of the alleged hard times, the building boom is still on, is shown in the number of new buildings erected during the past year. It is true that there have been but few business buildings or costly houses erected, but there have been many cottages and modest residences built that have furnished employment to carpenters, masons, painters and plumbers, and will add materially to the taxable valuation. One gentleman, who is in a position to know whereof he speaks, says there will be at least 100 more houses on the tax list this year than last.

If any one has any doubt that Middletown's mechanics have not plenty of work, they will doubt no longer after asking builders or painters to do a job of work. Middletown has of course been affected to some extent by the prevailing depression, but it has not suffered as have many other towns throughout the country. There is nothing of the mushroom character in Middletown's growth. Its permanent progress is assured.

The life of one of Middletown's physicians is given an added joy by his acquaintance with the woman universally known as "Old Soap." She is constantly in the streets, and whenever she meets the doctor stops him and asks: "Are Beecham's pills really good for biliousness?" At first the doctor was inclined to think that she was asking for information in good faith, but now that he has been held up with the question a hundred times or more he is beginning to suspect that the woman, underneath her somewhat unpromising exterior, conceals a sense of humor and is having a good deal of quiet fun at his expense.

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE HOSPITAL

A Pleasing Programme Well Rendered Under Direction of the Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association had charge of a very pleasant entertainment at the State Hospital, last evening, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the patients, and all present. The programme opened with a vocal duet by Miss Mamie Jones and Miss Black, followed by a whistling solo by Miss Jones, which elicited much applause. A humorous pantomime, "The cannibal and the skeleton," was given by Miss Anna Smith and Messrs. A. B. Hurtus, Geo. H. Lyon and I. J. Lyon, Jr. Miss Ella Lounsberry sang a pretty solo. Then followed a parallel bar and mat drill by members of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The programme concluded by a whistling solo by Miss Mamie Jones.

WARMED THE AMPUTATED HAND.

Then Flannigan, of Sidney, Though Unaware of the Warming, Said His Pain Was Gone.

The following story was telegraphed from Sidney to the New York Herald.

James Flannigan had his left arm crushed last Friday, while employed in the Ontario and Western Railroad yard at Sidney. The arm was amputated and deposited temporarily in the cemetery vault. The next day after the amputation the unfortunate man complained that the missing hand pained him severely, and for hours he was unable to rest.

"You men ridicule the idea," said the suffering man to an attendant, "but I know if that poor left hand was where it could keep warm I would feel better."

Without Flannigan's knowledge a friend went to the vault, removed the amputated member and placed it near a fire. In less than five minutes after this Flannigan, who was writhing in pain, suddenly became quiet and exclaimed: "The pain has ceased. The hand must be getting warmer."

It was some time before Flannigan was informed that the hand had been disturbed, and it was kept unburied until yesterday and then interred in the family plot.

NEW PACKS FOR MILITIAMEN.

The Fifteenth Company of Poughkeepsie Equipped With Merriam Packs.

The 15th Separate Company, of Poughkeepsie, has been equipped by the State with the new Merriam packs. These now take the place of the old knapsack now in use by the State troops. The packs have been in use by the regular army for some time, and are regarded as the most complete knapsack yet invented. The pack is supported by two sticks, which fit in a socket strap at the hips. The straps on the shoulder are larger than the old style, and a strap, which connects the two sticks, passes across the back, so that the weight of the pack is distributed between the shoulders and the hips. The 15th, is the first company to get the new knapsack in this part of the State.

Would Have Played Havoc With the Jewelry Store.

The Port Jervis Union, in speaking of a small fire in Gray's jewelry store, in that village, Wednesday night, says:

A great crowd of spectators was attracted by the alarm, and but for the efforts of Fireman Henry Flug, would have crowded their way into the store and made havoc of Mr. Gray's stock of goods.

The Union evidently doubts the honesty of many of Port Jervis citizens.

More Game Law Suits.

From the Newburgh Press.

Suits have now been commenced in the Supreme Court, by Game Protector Willett Kidd, of this city, against two men named Weymer, who live at Bellvale, town of Warwick, for catching fish with a net from Wickham pond. The protector has also commenced suit against Mr. McCloud of that vicinity, for catching fish in a net at Greenwood Lake. He has likewise begun suits against Messrs. Barry and Murphy, of New York city, for selling bass out of season at Fulton Market.

IN THE RAILROAD WORLD

—The officers of the Susquehanna road have offered to build a branch to Newton, if the citizens of that town will give $50,000, which is one-tenth of the estimated cost of the new road.

THEN THEY SMOKED.

The Indian Way of Celebrating a Verdict of Not Guilty in a Murder Trial.

A dozen Indians wrapped in blankets sat in silence in an office in the Hyde block Wednesday evening and smoked the pipe of peace. It followed the verdict in the Stachinoo murder case in the United States court. When it was announced to the Indians in waiting that the jury had returned a verdict, the prisoner's sad eyed father brought forth the famous pipe of peace and slowly filled it with tobacco. Then while the jury was being polled the Indians sat in silence and awaited the result. When Colonel Winston entered the little room a few minutes later with the prisoner, Simon Stachinoo, the boy's face was wreathed in smiles. He grasped his old father's hand and spoke in the Indian tongue.

The disconsolate expression left the old man's face; he smiled and shook his boy's hand warmly. Then, while Simon was shaking hands with others of the circle, the old father applied a match to the pipe. A few whiffs were taken, the smoke being exhaled through the nose; then it was passed around. Everything was excitement about them, but the circle was unmoved by emotion or interest until each had gone through the ceremony of peace; then they arose, and rushed out to get their certificates for fees, which amounted to $15 for each witness.—Spokane Review.

Elephant Leather.

A new industry is being rapidly developed in France, and if you mean to be in the fashion you had better take note of it at once. Some years ago it was the gentle crocodile which was selected as the fairest animal for providing you with new purses, bags, cigarette cases, boots shoes and all the rest of leathery knicknacks. Now it is the elephant that has to give his hide for the same purpose.

At Paris even now you can buy a card or cigar case of crocodile hide which has been glorified by a six months sojourn in a bath of oak bark in the tanner's yard. The price of the little toy is from 15 to 20 guineas, and if you are ambitious enough to wish to purchase a small crocodile valise and no one there to hinder you may do so for the sum of from £15 to £100. The tanned elephant skin is also reported to make carpets of unrivaled strength and "of a grand originality."—Paris Letter.

Mrs. Blackburn's Statement.

Mrs Blackburn authorizes The Courier-Journal correspondent to say that the statement made and reported in the press that she has rendered Madeline Pollard any financial aid is wholly untrue. Mrs. Blackburn says that she has given that person no money directly or indirectly, nor has she had anything to do with her whatever except to appear in court and give her testimony, as she believes it was her duty to do. Mrs. Blackburn trusts that her friends will believe this statement and disbelieve any other stories connecting her name with the plaintiff in the late sensational suit.

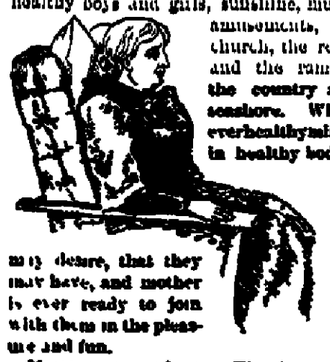
THE CHANGE OF LIFE.

A PICTURE FOR WOMEN'S EYES,

With the Hope That It May Do Some of Them Good.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

To-day there is the happy mother, healthy boys and girls, sunshine, music, amusements, the church, the romp and the ramble, the country and seashore. Whatever healthy minds in healthy bodies may desire, that they may have, and mother is ever ready to join with them in the pleasure and fun.



Years come and go. The boys and girls grow up to men and women. Mother's hair is turning white, her steps are not so elastic, but spirits flag there is an uneasy look in her dear eyes.

What can be the matter with mother?

She is approaching the most important crisis of her life, "the change of life." Those watchful eyes detect the evidences. Years bring this change, demanded by nature. What preparations have you made to carry the brave mother safely through it?

Within a comparatively short time the issue will be decided. Either a time fulfilling the law in proper lethal manner, or—there is the wreck of a noble woman for you to grieve over.

There is salvation in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will carry the mother safely through the inevitable change in her physical life. Well reputable druggists keep for you this grand remedy. See that "mother" has it, for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was won from the heights of medical science by a woman for all women nearing the change of life.
